PRINTED APRIL 2013 | REVISION 2.0

2006 - before trails

GOOD FOR COMMUNITY. GOOD FOR BUSINESS. GOOD FOR YOU!

Trails provide safe and healthy forms of recreation and transportation. Meandering along rivers and weaving through forests and grasslands, our trails connect us to each other and put us in touch with the natural beauty of our region. Little wonder then, that our trails attract visitors, promote business investment and raise property values.

Fort Wayne already has 70 miles of trails, but there are more community centers to connect. Will you help us? Now is the perfect time to get involved.

today - after trails

FORT WAYNE LOVES TRAILS!

483,581

Counted trail users in 2012. That's up 30.8% from 369,483 users counted in 2011.

1,338

Trek the Trails participants (our Tuesday night bike rides).

511 Individual donors

Individual donations totaling over $354,000 up 14.7% from $309,000 and 238 donations in 2011.

215%

Increase in participants in the Pufferbelly 5k and the Trail Blazer 5k/10k, our annual run / walk events.

Thanks for making 2012 Fort Wayne's biggest year ever for active transportation!

We're sure 2013 will be even better.

WHAT TRAILS DO FOR YOU

A stronger economy: Trail networks boost property values and business revenues. For instance, properties near Indianapolis' Monon Trail increased an average of 11% in value. Business investment within a 6-block radius topped $1 billion!

More business: Restaurants, ice cream and yogurt shops, bike shops, athletic equipment stores, and more all benefit from trails. Pennsylvania's 141-mile "Great Allegheny Passage" brought in $40 million in trail-related spending in 2008.

A healthier community: Trails promote healthy living by providing safe options for recreation and active transportation. Portland, Oregon saves more than $100 million annually on healthcare thanks to their regional trail network.

Employee satisfaction: The bike commuting and active lifestyles desired by professionals are made possible by trails and other bike and pedestrian infrastructure, ultimately helping businesses attract and retain our region's top-quality employees.

WHAT YOU CAN DO FOR TRAILS

INVEST IN A VIBRANT HEALTHY COMMUNITY

If everyone gave only $1 each time they used the trails, we'd have almost $500,000 or more every year to build more trails near you!
