MAP TRAIL 2016 INDIANA FORT WAYNE

THE STATE VISIONARY TRAIL

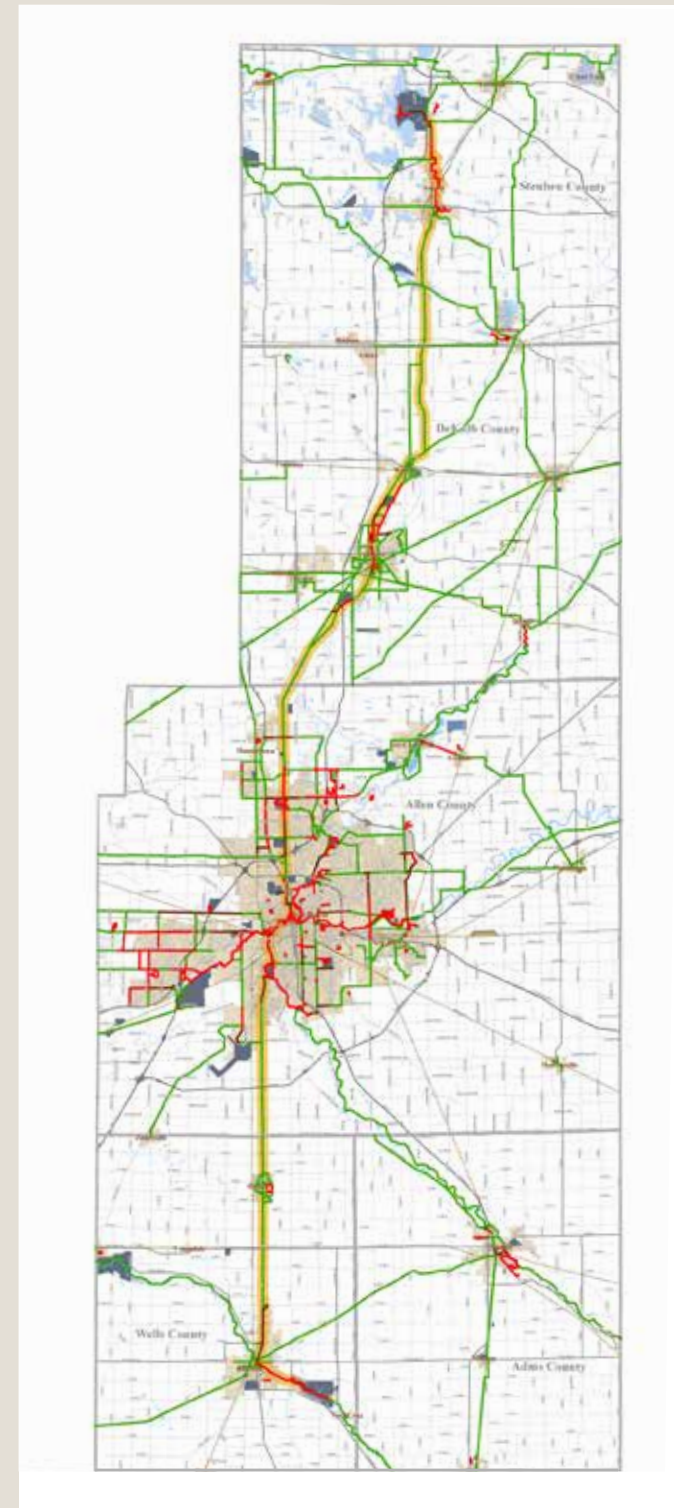

The Pufferbelly Trail will connect to the Rivergreenway trails, then extend south along Bluffton Road. It is a crucial part of the State of Indiana Visionary Trail project for Steuben, Dekalb, Allen, and Wells counties. Ultimately, the trail will run all the way from Ouabache State Park to Pokagon State Park, creating a viable destination for tourists and fueling economic and cultural growth for all four counties.

The vision for this trail is monumental.

Four counties working together to build 80 miles of connected trail is a huge goal, but the positive effects are just as huge. This trail will attract recreational tourist dollars as people who come to our region to travel the entire span of the trail will stop to eat, sleep, see attractions, and shop. As such, the trail will create opportunities for local businesses. Cycling, running, and other sports stores, and bed and breakfasts along extended routes will all directly benefit from the trail.

But the benefits don't stop there. As the region's quality of life improves, more businesses will choose to build and expand in our region. The trail will provide a unifying element for our parks, wineries, museums, downtowns, and historic sites. Ultimately, this trail will solidify the fact that Northeast Indiana is a thriving, culturally rich, active, and healthy community that's a fun place to visit and a great place to live.

The Visionary Trail is highlighted in yellow on the trail map.

The planned Visionary Trail will extend from Pokagon State Park in northern Steuben County, all the way to Ouabache State Park in Wells County. The trail will boost business and unify the region like never before.

HOW TO USE THE TRAILS

Using the trails is one of the best ways you can show your support for us, and the best part is that it's fun and easy! Here are a few ideas of ways to use the trails to get you started.

Whether you're biking, walking, or pushing a stroller, using the trails with your family is a great way to have some healthy, safe fun. Check our map to find a trailhead near you, load the kids, strollers, and bikes in the car, and make your way to the trails. Here are some fun paths you could take:

AROUND YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD

While it may not seem like much, taking a relaxing stroll around your neighborhood is a good way to chat and get some exercise. If the trails aren't directly accessible from your house, you could try using one of the loops. Salomon Farm, Foster Park, Kreager Park, Shoaff Park, Rockhill Park, and Indian Trails Park all have excellent, scenic trail loops.

FOSTER PARK LOOP

The Foster Park loop is approximately 2 miles long, leading you along the St. Marys river and Hartman Road. The beautiful scenery in the spring and summer, when all the flowers are in bloom, makes for a gorgeous walk or ride. Once you're finished with your walk, the kids can have a blast on Foster Park's awesome playground!

THE TOWPATH TRAIL

The Towpath Trail offers a unique biking experience that follows the former Wabash and Erie Canal. Suitable for families with children comfortable on bikes, this approximately 4.25 mile ride starts at Rockhill Park and ends at the new Towpath Trailhead on Engle Road. Consider bringing a picnic lunch with you and use the picnic tables at the trailhead. You can also read signs about the history of the Towpath, discover what animals you may find in nearby Eagle Marsh, and admire the beautiful sculpture in the middle of the pavilion. This is a great way for your family to get in touch with nature!

RIDE DOWNTOWN

Make a group outing great by riding your bikes downtown to watch a ballgame, have dinner, visit a festival, or catch a film at the Cinema Center. There are so many options that you could easily make this a weekly event!

HOW'S THE ACCESSIBILITY?

Most of our trail system has been built following ADA guidelines, or has been upgraded in recent years. A portion of the St. Marys Pathway is not yet accessible for all users. Please contact Fort Wayne Trails if you have questions about particular sections, and we'll help you find the answers.

That's an average of $750,000 per mile! Where does that money come from? People like you! The Community needs your help to reach 100 miles of trails by 2017.

Although the City of Fort Wayne and Allen County governments are leading the construction efforts, local matching funds are needed for current and future projects.
